NOBILE'S RESCUE DISPLEASING TO HIS GOVERNMENT

Italy Sends Message That
He File Full Report
Of Arctic Events

ORDERS ROMAGNA RETAIN COMMAND

Italy Chief Confers On Rescue of Companions
And Swedish Flier

Rome, June 25.—There were indications today that the Italian government is not entirely pleased because Gen. Umberto Nobile allowed himself to be rescued first from the ice floe in the Arctic.

The government has sent a radiogram asking Gen Nobile to forward
immediately a report of the disaster
to the Italian and the subsequent events including the rescue.

Contrary to Nobile's plan to assume direction of further rescue
work the government announced that it will remain in charge of Commander Romagna of the supply
ship Citta di Milano.

Discusses Rescue Plans

London, June 25.—General Umberto Nobile, now safe aboard the Citta di Milano at Virgo bay, today held a conference with the pilots of the three seaplanes using the ship as a base, an Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Rome stated.

The commander of the dirigible
Italia, which was lost while returning from the North pole, has thrown himself wholeheartedly into the task of rescuing the 20 men still marooned on the Arctic wastes.

He discussed with the pilots, one a Swede, the other two Italians, the feasibility of returning to his encampment with ski-equipped planes to rescue the four members of his party still marooned there and the pallid Swedish flier, Lundborg,
who was forced to join their isolation when his plane, the Upland, overturned on his second trip to the encampment after he had rescued Nobile.

Motor Chief Is Safe

The motor chief of the ill-fated Italia, Natale Ceccioni, has also been rescued and is believed to be aboard the Citta di Milano. He suffered a broken leg when the dirigible crashed on the morning of May 25.

General Nobile also discussed with the pilots his plan for the rescue of the ten other members of the dirigible's crew who were separated from his party. Three of these set out about over the ice-floes to search for aid. Nobile gave the pilots details for the route they planned to follow.

OFFER REWARD FOR MURDERER

Kin Posts $500 In Smith
Slaying At Leetonia
In August, 1925

Leetonia, June 26.—The murder case of Willis R. Smith will again be re-opened by the offer of a reward of $500 by W. B. Ashley, a brother-in-law of Mr. Smith for the arrest and conviction of the guilty persons between now and Jan.
1, 1929.

Smith was shot and instantly killed at 7:30 p. m. Thursday, Aug.
13, 1925, while seated on the porch
of his home on Somer st. with Mrs.
Smith. He was shot through the head with a revolver.

Those who claim they saw the fatal shot were persons around the home and on street and said they had seen the form of a man or boy crouching at the east end of the porch just back of Mr. and Mrs.
Smith.

It was supposed the person had come in from the rear of the home
up past the side of the house, fired
the shot and disappeared in the same way.

Every clue followed led to nothing.

AMERICAN DIES AT THROTTLE OF MEXICAN TRAIN

Mexico City, June 26.—Federal troops were scouring the hills between Bernal and Queretaro today for a band of guerrillas believed to have been responsible for the dynam-ing of a train of the National Railways, which resulted in the death of seven persons, one an American.

The American killed was Andrew
Robinson, the locomotive engineer.
The other victims were Mexicans.
Twenty passengers were injured.
The explosion derailed the locomotive,
baggage car and two coaches.
Robinson had lived in Mexico 35 years. He was the only American employed as a locomotive engineer
by the National Railways.

MAN BLINDED BY DRINKING WOOD ALCOHOL

John Davis Stricken In Jail After Drinking
Poison Saturday

"Canned heat" and wood alcohol
are said to have caused the total blindness of John Davis, 34, colored,
of Roosevelt ave., following inspection by physicians at City hospital.
It is Salem's first case of blindness due to drinking in several years.

Davis was arrested by Patrolmen
Ralph Stoffer and William Reardon
and a charge of intoxication placed against him Saturday afternoon. He was lodged in the city jail, where he stayed until Sunday,
when he called to Chief of Police
T. W. Thompson for a cigarette.

Thompson took a cigarette to him.
He noticed that Davis had to grope for it, and then was unable to find the cigarette with the match
to light it after he had placed it in his mouth.

After questioning Davis said that he was unable to see.

Mayor Phil Hiddleston was notified and doctors called. He was rushed to the City hospital, where an examination was made. Statements were issued today that chances of regaining his sight are poor.

His blindness was not instant. It was said, the alcohol taking effect
slowly, and causing blindness about 24 hours after Davis drank it.

NEW VENIRE IN MURDER TRIAL

Toledo, June 26.—A new venire of 96 names was being drawn here today, in order to complete the jury
in the trial of Charles Hoppe, indicted for first degree murder in the brutal killing of Dorothy Sielagowski.

The original venire of 74 names
was exhausted today when the defense opened fire with its 16 pen-emptory challenges. But 11 tentative jurors have been chosen.

It was believed today that two more days would be needed in completing the jury.

Three Boys, Man Killed In Explosion At Fireworks Plant

Storage Shed Is Blown To Pieces As Four Fill
Homemade Bombs

BODIES MUTILATED BY TERRIFIC BLAST

Homes Wrecked, Vicinity
Covered By Debris At Thompsonville, Conn.

Thompsonville, Conn., June 26.—
A man and three boys were killed
today when an explosion wrecked
a storage shed at the plant of the New England Fireworks company on the northern outskirts of this town.

The superintendent of the fireworks company, which had given permission to the visitors to visit a shed where chemicals were stored in order that they might fill some home-made bombs for use in a Fourth of July celebration, thought that there was another in the party,
but a search of the vicinity failed
to reveal more than four bodies.

These had been blown some distance away and were horribly mutilated.

The dead, all residents of Thomp-
sonville, follow:

Rosario Farno, 45; William Dorsic, 19; Joseph Anzoletti, 14; John Anzoletti, 11.

A dull thud shook the countryside for a mile around and fire apparatus and doctors hurried to the scene.

Reports stated that a number of homes near the plant were wrecked
and that trees and small buildings were blown down by the terrific blast.

The countryside near the plant was covered with debris. Many windows in the homes of employees of the fireworks company were smashed by the air concussion, the report stated.

Harter Seeks New Hearing In Lengel Testimony Appeal

Columbus, June 26.—Prosecuting Attorney Henry W. Harter, Jr., Canton today asked the Ohio supreme court for a rehearing relative to exceptions taken by the state opposing the exclusion of the testimony of Floyd Streitenberger at the second trial which resulted in the acquittal of Saranus A. Lengel former Canton police chief, on a charge of first degree murder in connection with the assassination of Don Mellett, Canton newspaper publisher.

The supreme court recently overruled the state's exceptions and upheld the exclusion of Streitenber-ger's testimony.

START WORK ON DISPOSAL PLANT

Work on the construction of the new sewage disposal plant started today.

The construction gang of the Freeman-Jones company, Cleveland
firm, awarded the general contract
for the plant's construction, arrived in the city today with material to start excavating and building immediately.

The plant will be completed in approximately 150 days, the contract of the company stipulated.

Decision Reserved In Dodge Brothers Merger Suit Case

New York, June 26.—Decision was reserved by the supreme court today on the application of C. H.
Goddard, a preferred stockholder of Dodge Brothers, to make permanent the temporary order restraining the merger of the Dodge and Chrysler companies.

Goddard claimed that the rights of the minority stockholders were being jeopardized by the merger
under the terms agreed upon by bankers for both corporations.

Counsel were given until tomorrow afternoon to submit briefs at which time a decision may be announced.

City Ordinance Bans Sale, Use Of Firecrackers

"No person, firm or corporation shall, within the city of Salem, sell, offer for sale, or have in his possession or custody any toy pistol, squib,
rocket, fire cracker, Roman candle, fire balloon, or caps in any form, torpedo or other combustible fireworks, or any article
for the making of a pyrotechnic display."

This reads Section 1 of the city ordinance to prohibit the sale and use of fireworks in the city, which will be enforced by city officials this Fourth of July.

The ordinance continues to read that "no person shall fire
any cannon, gun, rifle, pistol,
squib, toy pistol, rocket, cracker, Roman candle, torpedo or other combustible fireworks in the city."

The ordinance is clear in that positively no fireworks or pyro-technic display will be allowed in the city.

POMERENE HAS RELEASED HIS OHIO DELEGATES

Reaches Understanding
With State Chairman
For Second Ballot

Houston, Tex., June 26.—Ex-Senator Pomerene of Ohio, "favorite son" presidential candidate, has virtually released the Ohio delegation from its pledge of support, it was learned today.

"We have a perfect understanding with Senator Pomerene," said H. G.
Brunner, state chairman. "I talked with him about the entire situation
and he said that he wished the delegation to use its best judgment."

"Ohio's entire vote, perhaps with one exception, will be cast for him on the first ballot. After that 45 votes may go to Governor Smith."

The statement apparently disposed of rumor that most of the delegation would go to Smith on the first ballot and that Pomerene would officially withdraw. A caucus today may reveal some change in the line up.

Having completed its organization
in record time, the Ohio delegation was represented as one of the most harmonious here—and determined to maintain harmony in the convention.

Ex-Secretary of War Newton D.
Baker of Cleveland was named
member of the resolutions committee. Others elected included: Chairman, delegation, Claude Meeker;
national committeemen, W. A.
Julian (re-elected), committee
woman, Bernice S. Pyke (re-elected);
member rules committee, J.
Henry Goeke; credentials, Warren
Gard; permanent organization, W.
W. Durbin.

STEWART ASKS SPEEDY TRIAL

Washington, June 26.—Robert W.
Stewart, oil magnate indicted for perjury in connection with his testimony before the senate Teapot Dome committee entered a plea of not guilty on arraignment before the district supreme court today.

Stewart demanded a speedy trial,
which was set for October 8.

55 Win Paroles

Columbus, June 26.—Fifty-five prisoners, including a negro lifetermer from Belmont county were paroled from the Ohio State penitentiary at the June meeting of the State Board of Clemency, according to announcement at the penal institution today.

HARMONY CRY IS WATCHWORD OF DEMOCRATS

Convention Seems In Fair
Position To Realize
Hope This Year

SHARP SKIRMISHES ON DRY, AG. PLANKS

Will Try To Placate All
But Outer Fringe Of
Dem. Radicalism

BY GEORGE R. HOLMES

Houston, Texas, June 26.—The curtain went up today upon a Democratic National convention set upon ratifying the nomination of Gov.
Al Smith, adopting a platform that will placate all but the extreme outer fringe of radicalism on the prohibition question and adjourning
as quickly as possible.

The age-old political cry of harmony was the watchword, and for once the Democrats seemed in a fair position to realize it.

There will be a sharp skirmish on
the prohibition plank in the platform but soothing influences have been at work and are still working.

The majority opinion today seemed intent upon not letting either
the rabid wets or the rabid dries run away with the convention, nor even to allow them to engage in any bitter and extended contest.

The Smith leaders from the wet
east would like to see a wet plank
in the platform. They make no bones about that. But faced here with the united opinion of the south and west Democracy against it, they are prepared to yield their views,
and to accept "anything reasonable"
along the prohibition line that is offered. The phrase was used by one of the wettest of the Smith captains.

Agree on Plank Later

Similarly, the extreme dries would like to hammer into the platform
a plank endorsing the "moral righteousness" and the "moral principle" of prohibition. They are not likely to get that.

In the end, after the inevitable
skirmish which the real leaders on both sides are hoping to make short and snappy, a law enforcement plank as strong or stronger than that which the Republicans adopted at Kansas City, probably will be agreed upon.

A strong law enforcement plank,
then, would be acceptable to the eastern wets and would placate the southern and western dries. Of course, the radical fringe on both sides will be dissatisfied and may yet upset the apple cart and promote a bitter fight, but the chances
at the opening of the convention

LEETONIA CIVIL WAR VET DEAD

M. B. Adam, 83, Former Merchant; Funeral To Be Wednesday

M. B. Adam, 83, of Leetonia, Civil war veteran and retired merchant,
died at 10 p. m. Monday at his home
following an illness of two and one-half years, from a paralytic stroke
and infirmities of age.

Mr. Adam was born in Lisbon
Nov. 20, 1845. He went to East Liverpool in 1879 and from that city
moved to Leetonia in 1897. For several years he conducted a drygoods and notion store in Leetonia. He had been retired for a number of years.

He served his country in the Civil war being a member of Company K, 143rd regiment, O. V. I. At the time of his death he was a member of Todd post, G. A. R., Youngstown.
He formerly was a member of Firestone post, G. A. R., at Leetonia, before it was discontinued.

Surviving are his widow; five daughters, Mrs. Carl Cushman, Youngstown, and the Misses Bertha,
Nell Corrine and Etta, at home, and four grandchildren. He was the last of a family of eight children.

The funeral will be at 11 a. m.
Wednesday at the home in charge
of Dr. H. C. Brillhart, pastor of St.

Woman Presides At Ohio Teachers Meet

Cedar Point, June 26.—First sessions of the 81st annual summer
meeting of the Ohio State Teachers association were to be held here today.

Several prominent educators were scheduled to make addresses and a Parent-Teacher organization discussion also was on the program.

A. E. Claggett, superintendent of Oakwood school, Dayton, was to speak at the afternoon session.
For the first time in the convention history, this year's meet is being presided over by a woman, Mrs.
Rachel O. Yaw, of New Lexington.
Mrs. Yaw, first vice president, is occupying the chair in the absence of President J. R. Patterson of Athens, who is ill.

ORDERS PADLOCK ON SALEM HOUSE

Cosgarea Brothers Face
Federal Judge Jones
In Cleveland

Cleveland, June 26.—A two story frame building, known as "the Salem House," owned by James and Steve Cosgarea, brothers, at Salem,
was ordered "padlocked" for one year by Federal Judge Paul Jones
here today when Assistant United States District Attorney Howell
Leuck presented the brothers' case
for trial.

The charge against the Cosgareas
was "being proprietors of a public nuisance."

The brothers were in court but did not put up any defense when they saw the array of prohibition agents, constables and other persons ready to testify for the government, Attorney Leuck declared.
"The Salem House was one of the most notorious places in northern Ohio," Leuck declared in commenting on the case. "We have had many complaints from Salem citizens that the place be closed."

In 1925 the barroom of the hotel was padlocked after prohibition
agents had investigated the property, Leuck said.

Federal subpoenas were served on Patrolmen Ralph Stoffer and Constable Earl Fitchie, who were at the trial to testify if called on.

A charge of selling intoxicating liquors and one of operating a gambling house are now pending against James Cosgarea, following his arrest by Patrolmen Reardon
and Stoffer recently.

Bond placed at $1500 by Mayor
Phil Hiddleston was declared forfeited when he failed to appear for trial June 15, and investigation showed him to be out of the city.
On his return, he was apprehended
and the trial set for 9 a. m. tomorrow.

Cosgarea pled not guilty to both charges.

610 Students Take State Bar Exams

Columbus, O., June 26.—Six hundred and ten law students from every part of Ohio were here today
taking the state examination for admission to the bar.

The examination, which is being held in Memorial hall here, will last two days. It was said. The results will not be known for several weeks.

Indiana Delegates Stick By Woollen

Houston, Tex., June 26.—A threatened revolt in the Indiana delegation against the candidacy of Evans Woollen for president failed to materialize in the delegation's first caucus, and it was indicated today
that the Hoosiers would stick by him on the first ballot unless released.

CURTAIN RISES ON DEMOCRATS IN TEXAS HALL

Robinson Boom Growing;
Tammany Backing Him
For Running Mate

SMITH MAY CARRY ON FIRST BALLOT

Cry Is "Make It Short
And Snappy" As Meet
Opens At Noon

San Houston Hall, Houston, Texas
June 26.—The rumble of a Smith
band wagon bearing the legend
"Smith-and-Robinson" was heard in the offing today as the thousand-odd delegates to the Democratic national convention sweltered their way into this huge mountain of pine and bunting at Houston erected for them almost overnight.

Of the Smith part of the ticket,
no one had any doubt whatsoever—
not even the bitterest last-ditcher
from the forks of some southern creek.

The movement to nominate the New York governor on the first ballot was growing as the delegates assembled for the first session. A careful figure analysis showed that barring last-minute upsets he will have more than 700 votes on the initial ballot, with several of the favorite sons teetering on the fence
over the question of withdrawing
early and letting it go with a whoop
on the first roll call.

Robinson Boom Grows
As for the Robinson part of the ticket, the movement undeniably
was growing by leaps and bounds
this morning to name the Arkansas
senator early in the proceedings.

The Tammany people were for him, his senatorial colleagues scattered through a dozen delegations were boosting him, and within the next three days there probably will be enough votes lined up to insure his nomination.

The cry was everywhere to make this convention "short and snappy"
—no Madison Square Garden. The heat, of which Houston has plenty,
contributed to the desire to wind
things up as quickly as possible.
The principle barrier seemed to be
the prohibition plank in the platform but here again was the impatient desire on the part of leaders to avoid any lengthy argument.
A short and snappy fight and a strong law enforcement plank that will be acceptable to the wets and still will mollify the dries was the goal.

Few Cling To Coats
Clem Shaver's open invitation to make this a "coolest convention"
was accepted alacritously by the per-spring delegates. A few Spartans,

MODEL IS SLAIN SALESMAN HELD

Cleveland Found Other Man In Apartment Of
His Companion

Cleveland, June 26.—Sidney Wallenstein, 30, salesman, was to be attained in municipal court here today on a murder charge in connection with the death of Miss Mary Wilson, 31, a model who was shot and fatally wounded in the apartment of Mrs. Mary Kieferle last night, according to police.

The shooting occurred after the couple, divorced two months ago
had patched up their marital differences, authorities said.

"You would have done the same thing," Wallenstein told police when he was arrested.

Wallenstein, according to detectives, said he found "the other man"
with Miss Wilson and he remonstrated. Miss Wilson, he alleges, struck him and Wallenstein said he fired
the revolver he carried while "the man" slipped out the door.

A bullet struck Miss Wilson in the neck. She died in a few minutes, the bullet having severed the jugular vein, physicians said.

Columbus, O., June 26.—The state
utilities commission, it was stated today, rejected the application of the International Teletype Company, Inc., New York City, for a rehearing relative to the order issued recently by the commission rescin-ding the action taken by the commis-

thorized the company to issue and sell $100,000 in securities in Ohio.

WORK THE CHAIRMAN

The battleground for supremacy between the Republicans and Democrats may be in the east this year, as some political wiseacres appear to believe, but the west, insofar as the G. O. P. is concerned, will dominate this party's campaign activities.

Both Herbert Hoover and Charles Curtis, the Republican standard-bearers, come out of the west. And now Hubert Work of Colorado, secretary of the interior in Mr. Coolidge's cabinet, has been named ring-master for the 1938 campaign, which the Republicans will soon offer the public.

It was more or less a certainty that Secretary Work, fellow-cabinet member with Mr. Hoover, would become the nominee's national chairman. Mr. Work was indefatigable in his efforts to secure Mr. Hoover's nomination, both in the pre-convention campaign and in the heat of the battle itself at Kansas City.

Known everywhere in Republican circles as a master strategist, a worker who never gives up an objective, yet Mr. Work is an entirely new type of man for chairman of the Republican national committee. He is not to be associated in any way with the types of men, who, in the past—at least the past prior to the incumbency of Chairman Butler of Massachusetts—had control of the G. O. P.

Mr. Work, like Mr. Hoover, is a business man, insofar as practical politics is concerned. In private life Mr. Work is a physician, was the founder of Woodcroft hospital for nervous ailments in Colorado, and has spent much of his life in alleviating the sufferings of others.

However, it must not be construed from all this that Work is an amateur in politics. Not by a long shot. Let's see. He was a delegate-at-large to the Republican convention of 1908. He was chairman of the Colorado state Republican central committee, 1912, and was Colorado member of the Republican national committee that year.

From March, 1921, to March, 1922, Mr. Work was first assistant postmaster general, and from March 4, 1922, until March 4, 1923, he was postmaster general. He has been secretary of the interior since March 5, 1923. He holds a lieutenant colonel's commission in the U. S. A. medical corps, is a Mason and a Presbyterian. His home is Pueblo, Colo.

Thus, while Mr. Work is a new type of chief of the Republican national committee, he brings to his job plenty of experience in practical politics, as politics, and a wealth of experience as a strategist, professional man and veteran campaigner among business men and others. By the very nature of his work as secretary of the interior in Mr. Coolidge's cabinet, he is acquainted with the nation's needs and what it will take to more solidly intrench the Hoover-Curtis team in the good graces of the electorate.

It may be said—and will very likely be unanimously agreed before the end of the campaign—that Mr. Hoover and Mr. Curtis made a wise choice of national chairman and campaign manager.

What Others Say

NOMINATIONS

Nobody who saw the proceedings at the final session of the Kansas City convention, at which the Republican vice presidential candidate was nominated, can doubt that the selection of Senator Charles Curtis strengthened the party ticket and brightened the party prospects for November.

From the standpoint of Republicanism, the convention had been solidly satisfactory up to that time. The nomination of Mr. Hoover had created enthusiasm and confidence and the optimism which comes from a consciousness that the right thing has been done. There had been some differences over the party platform, but none of them had gone beyond reconciliation, and all but the most extreme professional exponents of the McNary-Haugen bill had decided to be satisfied with the agricultural plank as adopted. Indeed most of the genuine farm representatives were delighted with that plank, since they had not real use for the "equalization" scheme and were rather grateful to President Coolidge for having vetoed the measure containing it. So except for the regulation growlings and vapors of a few radicals, the assemblage was in a pleasant mood and sore spots were at a minimum.

But something still was needed in order to put a finishing touch on the get-together move by creating a vivid sense of party solidarity to round out the convention by providing a little color and sentiment, and to give everybody a chance to get in on the ground floor with respect to a major decision by the gathering. And that something came when the name of Charles Curtis was presented, and practically the whole floor of the house rose in a burst of genuine approval and enthusiasm that included both the east and the west, both the business man and the agriculturist, and put the convention into an "Auld Lang Syne" mood.

Beside all that, there was a general feeling that the selection of Senator Curtis was a wise and fortunate action from every practical standpoint and that the convention had done itself credit and had justified the expectation of people back home by placing in vice presidential nomination a man of real presidential size.—Detroit Free Press.

GOVERNORS AND PARDONS

When the people of a state empower their governor to commute sentences imposed by the court and grant pardons for all offenses, they place in his hands a tremendous power. Using it he can set aside any sentence pronounced by a court. The trial, appellate and supreme courts may be in agreement on all facts, guilt certain, sentence valid, no infirmity done, but the governor can veto and overrule all they decide and from his pardon or commutation there is no appeal. The real magnitude of the pardoning power can be realized only when it has been misused.

The governor of Indiana recently commuted a sentence imposed on a man convicted of bribery while serving in the council at Indianapolis. The trial court pronounced a sentence of three years in prison and a fine of $500. The governor, without notice to the public, the courts or the prosecutor, set aside the sentence, and reduced the fine to a trifling sum. By that act he overruled the trial court, set aside the verdict of guilty pronounced by the jury, weakened the power of the court and tied the hands of the prosecuting attorney.

It was a case where the will of one man was stronger than the power of the courts and the criminal machinery of the state. In making that use of his power the governor made no statement in justification of overruling the courts. He was clearly inside his legal rights in all he did, but there are other rights worthy of consideration when public interests are involved. Questionable use of the pardoning powers helps break down respect for law and weakens the courts.

Fortunately there are not many instances where a governor allows his whim or caprice to run riot with law and government but in these doubtful cases the public can realize the far-reaching power placed in the hands of one man. It emphasizes the necessity of electing to the office of governor only men who are too wise to be made victims of such blunders, too high-minded to give serious affront to courts, law and established government.—Ohio State Journal.

United States Senator from New York, Former Commissioner of Health, New York City

Years ago a good many physical ailments were not understood. It was not unusual to group together several ailments which are now recognized as separate and distinct diseases. Pneumonia, for instance, is now divided into several different "types."

Bacteriology, the science dealing with germs, has revealed the true nature of a good many diseases. It has proven that some of those which were formerly counted as separate diseases, are really identical. As an example let us consider the old-fashioned "membranous croup" as it was called. This is now recognized to be diphtheria.

There's another disease which used to be called "false croup." It wasn't croup at all. Now it is referred to as "spasmodic laryngitis."

The larynx is the part of the throat between the base of the tongue and the windpipe. It is lined with mucous membrane and, like such membrane elsewhere, this is a tissue which is liable to become inflamed.

Children between the ages of two and five are most likely to be attacked by croup. It is preceded for a couple of days or less by running

The Stars Say—

for Wednesday, June 27.

By GENEVIEVE REMBLE.

ACCORDING to the excellent configurations of the moon on important planets this day should afford highly desirable opportunities for advancement, achievement and many pleasant developments and associations. Business, employment and artistic and social activities should prove avenues of cherished attainment, but all these may be jeopardized by a propensity to rash and impetuous conduct and speech. Also a temptation to extravagance and speculation would menace these many benefits.

Those whose birthday it is are assured of a year of excellent opportunity for advancement, success and progress as well as happiness if they will but curb a propensity toward rash and impetuous words and speech as well as an inclination toward speculation and extravagance. A child born on this day may be endowed with many facilities for success and happiness in life, but it should be given early discipline in self-control, prudence and thrift.

Never Rode One But
Farmer Asks Patent
On Flying Machine

Excelsior Springs, Mo., June 26—A "hybrid" of the air, capable of many of the antics of the well known "Yellow-jacket," in the form of a man-made aircraft, is expected to make its initial appearance here in the near future.

The device, termed a "foolproof" airplane by its designer and maker, a farmer and non-flier, will remain stationary in midair, take off and alight without the customary runway, its inventor claims. It will also go either backward or forward it is said.

Three-Foot Model
George Turner, farmer living five miles south of this town has completed a three-foot model of the machine and has applied for patents at Washington, he said. Turner never has ridden in an air conveyance of any type.

The mechanism, according to its creator, embodies the principles involved in the ordinary airplane, the balloon motor car and dirigible. Four propellers, parallel with the ground, will move the object upward, assisted by a gas bag on the top of the machine. With proper altitude reached, the device would be sent forward or backward with more propellers attached to each end, driven by separate engines. Both methods of propulsion used at the same time, together with the balloon department, would, the invention believes, keep the object stationary in the air.

Valve Controls
In the event engine in the apparatus failed, Turner thinks the machine would be supported by the gas bag and allowed by a system of valve controls on the bag to descend easily on four large wheels, each equipped with giant springs to make the return to earth "soft and even."

A "firebox" connecting the gas bag with the exhaust of the motors could be used to fill the bag sufficiently to make the entire contraption "lighter than air," Turner declared.

Sick stomachs, sour stomachs and indigestion usually mean excess acid. The stomach nerves are overstimulated. Too much acid makes the stomach and intestines sour.

Alkali kills acid instantly. The best form is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia, because one harmless, tasteless dose neutralizes many times its volume in acid. Since its invention, 50 years ago, it has remained the standard with physicians everywhere.

Take a spoonful in water and you will probably end in five minutes.

Then you will always know what to do. Crude and harmful methods will never appeal to you. Go prove this for your own sake. It may save a great many disagreeable hours.

TOURISTS SEEN AS DANGER FOR ART IN FRANCE

Prices Change Taste And Clothes. Is Wait Of Native Writer

Paris, June 26.—"The constant foreign invasion is becoming a great source of danger to French taste and art," declares Maurice de Waleffe, writing in the "Paris Midi."

"Paris is fast becoming the world's biggest hotel and of course the hotel keeper is in luck—but he must watch his step. In order to continue a thriving business, the city must have its big attraction and everyone knows that this is the chic Parisienne."

"Why do all the American millionaires, kings, maharajas and sultans direct their steps toward 'la ville lumière' when they are off for a holiday? Not because of the climate nor of the celebrated good eating to be found within her gates that is certain. Paris monopoly is summed up in gaiety and this gaiety is crystallized in the French woman."

Monsieur de Waleffe acknowledges that there are many American women more beautiful than those in Paris, many Russians and Polish who are more charming, and more Scandinavians who are far more intelligent. But the Parisienne leads them all when it comes to fashion.

And this is where the rub comes. Her "toilette" is in danger. It is bound to be altered accordingly to the taste and wishes of foreign clients, just as the theater, cuisine and many other old institutions have been changed.

"The one who pays the biggest price is certain to get what he wants and sooner or later his taste will impose itself on the market. If a French dressmaker finds that ten of his models in exotic taste sell better than the other 290, he will certainly produce more of the first his next season. In fact, he will very likely bring forth 290 exotic frocks and costumes and only ten French ones."

"This is just what is happening in many of the smart dressmaking establishments today and the time is not far off when really French frocks will be unseen on the streets of Paris."

"Then the Yankees will find it useless to come to Paris for their dresses. They will simply stay at home and our French couturiers will go over there to make their clothes in the style they want. And just as men's fashions come to us from London, women's will come over from New York."

Everybody knows that Paris is the world's city of fashion; few realize that it is the most important port in France.

The "Port of Paris" includes all the waterways in the Seine department and these comprise the part of the Seine and the Marne rivers within the department, the municipal canals of Paris, the Oure canal, the Villetta basin and several other canals. In this zone, before the war there was traffic amounting to at least 15,000,000 tons a year. This figure has been growing so rapidly that the authorities are now obliged to take steps to increase the waterways.

Work which was started in October, 1925, extending and improving the canals and entailing the removal of 360,000 cubic meters of earth, is expected to terminate this autumn, making Paris a more important port than ever.

The "iron horse" has conquered a smugglers' trail. Following a ceremony attended by French and Spanish dignitaries, a railroad train crossed the heart of the Pyrenees from Bedous, France, to Camfranc, Spain, traversing wild country which for centuries has defied all but packhorses carrying contraband.

Camfranc is 1,000 feet higher than Bedous. The grade on the right of way is frequently two inches to a yard while a mile and a half spiral tunnel vanquishes one obstacle.

The new international line would be 47 miles from the regular Paris-Madrid route, which will remain unchanged, but it brings Spain 224 miles nearer to the productive regions of Central France.

Hitherto the international lines ran along the east and west coasts.

Sailboat Marathon Starts June 30, New Orleans to Mobile

New Orleans, La., June 26.—On June 30 a number of little boats will hoist sail from this old port and begin the fight for leadership across 142 miles of open water between here and Mobile, in the annual sailboat marathon of the Southern Yacht club. A large list will compete.

According to Capt. Mannel Davis, it has not yet been decided whether the long-distance motor cruiser race will end at Mobile or Pensacola. The race starts July 1.

Swiss Yodelers Use Absinthe to Gargle

Geneva, June 26.—Swiss peasants, who are known in the world as yodelers, keep their teeth and throats in condition by gargling with absinthe, asserts one Hector Jaillat. Jaillat was arrested on a charge of smuggling 220 gallons of absinthe into Switzerland. His defense was that he was dealing in antiseptic and not intoxicants.

"I even sell it to hospitals," said Jaillat. "The patients were given absinthe for throat treatment and some refused to brush their teeth with anything else. I can prove that no one ever swallowed it."

She's Proud of Her Nephew Herbert

MIDDLE-OF-ROAD DRY PLANK SEEN

Houston, Texas, June 26.—A new plan of strategy was evolved by Democratic platform drafters today to head off the threatened stormy row over the prohibition plank.

The idea is this: Let the wets bring before the resolutions committee a dripping plank calling for modification of the Volstead law.

Let the militant dries counter with a proposal lauding the 13th amendment to the skies.

At this point, according to the scheme of those leaders who are seeking to make harmony the watchword of the convention, both sides will be counseled to reconcile their divergent views through the adoption of a middle-of-the-road plank pledging the party to strict law enforcement.

The compromise plank, as suggested by Smith leaders, would condemn the Republican party for laxity in enforcing the 18th amendment and would place the Democrats on record as staunchly favoring the enforcement of all provisions of the constitution.

Further, it was represented as having the approval of Governor Smith. He is said to have suggested it to his leaders here through one of his closest friends and advisers.

Of course, the compromise may not deter the radical wets or dries from carrying a fight to the floor but its backers hope it will take the sting out of their fight.

That the southern dries, under the leadership of Gov. Dan Moody of Texas, are not going to be satisfied with anything less than an open endorsement of the 18th amendment was manifested after an early morning conference in Moody's headquarters.

The conferees approved a dry plank and selected Moody to wage the fight for it in the platform committee. The substance of the plank declared that the Democratic party endorses the 18th amendment and pledges itself to strict enforcement and observance of laws passed in pursuance thereof.

CARAWAY OFFERS FARM AID PLANK

Not Direct Subsidy But Would Effect Sales Of Surplus Crops

BY SEN. T. A. CARAWAY
Houston, Texas, June 26.—I offer the following farm plank for the Democratic national platform.

"We recognize that, owing to the limited human control that can be exercised over forces that govern volume of farm production it is impossible for farmers by concerted action to adjust their productive lines."

"We also recognize that our national policies of the past have expanded the agricultural plant of the nation as the foundation of national wealth and security. These factors are responsible for the existence of occasional or regular market surpluses in some of the most widely grown crops, and limited the effectiveness of laws to equalize the difference between the costs of production in this country and foreign competitive lands having lower living standards."

"The Democratic party recognizes that what is called surpluses of farm products and marketing thereof in such an orderly way as not to destroy agriculture, is a problem which calls for national legislation to aid the farmers in its solution since the number and wide distribution of the producers of very important crops renders concerted action in handling these surpluses impossible. We do not favor, however, legislation which attempts to correct the situation through direct or indirect treasury subsidies. We believe that any operations undertaken to assist farmers to meet this problem should be largely under the direction of farm organizations and cooperative associations, with the use only of such federal powers as are necessary to distribute the costs and losses that may be incurred in dealing with agricultural surpluses over each marketed unit of the crop whose products are to be benefited by such assistance."

"We endorse, therefore, the aim and principles of this distributing the costs of concerted action over the commodity benefited, and pledge the efforts of the party to the perfection and enactment of a measure based on this principle which can receive general support and become a law."

OLD BOB LAKE, GARDENER TOPS WALES AT GOLF

London, June 26.—Probably the happiest man in England today is "Old Bob" Lake, a 70-year-old gardener, who defeated the Prince of Wales in the annual golf match at Banchester between the Royal West Norfolk Golf club and the Banchester Village club.

The prince played for the Norfolk club, of which his brother, the Duke of Gloucester, is captain.

"I found the prince to be a good golfer and a charming partner," said "Old Bob" in discussing the historic match. "He is seriously intent on his game, but he nevertheless always has time for a cherry word and a smile."

Lake looks his 70 years, but when he starts to play golf, he sheds his age and plays with great enthusiasm.

"When I won the match," Lake continued, "the prince shook me warmly by the hand. He said it was the best game he had played on the Banchester course."

"At one stage of the game a spectator was about to photograph the prince just as he was taking a stroke. The prince hesitated and politely requested the man to take the snapshot further on."

"You will get a better snap there," he said, "and I can get a better stroke here."

"At the 17th tee the prince saw a pigeon strutting among the spectators and he interrupted his game to feed the bird."

The prince won the honor, and teed off first. The match was a see-saw affair, and although the prince was two down at the turn, he only lost the match on the last green.

The prince had as his caddy a one-armed ex-serviceman, William Everett.

Recounting his triumph for the 100th time to a group of cronies in the local place of refreshment, "Old Bob" summed up the match in remarking that "the prince is a mighty good driver, but too hasty on the green."

New York—Patrolman Mackin of the motorcycle squad is obliging "Officer," said Mrs. Anne Sanford, "please pace me and tell me how fast I'm going. My speedometer isn't working." When the pacing was finished the officer handed out a ticket. Mrs. Sanford was fined $25.

Brentford, June 26.—A little girl aged nine at the Old Ford farm, Ashford, Middlesex, is very excited just now. The reason is that an exhibition of her paintings and drawings is now being held in the famous Claridge Gallery, Brook st., in the heart of fashionable London.

Her name is Peggy Somerville. It is not the first time she has exhibited in public. When she was three years old her drawings astonished everybody when they were shown at the Royal Drawing society's exhibition. More recently she has been an exhibitor at the New Irish salon.

The strange thing is that her father, Charles Somerville, the art-

FARM LEADERS SEEK ALLIANCE WITH AL SMITH

His Managers Consider It But No Action Taken; Plank Fight Seen

Houston, Texas, June 25.—A formal offer of an alliance between leaders of the "farm revolt" and Gov. Alfred E. Smith of New York was taken under consideration by the Smith managers today.

The proposal, carefully framed by a score of farm organization heads, was presented by Ed. A. O'Neal of Alabama and Chester H. Gray of Washington, both legislative representatives of the American Farm Bureau Federation. It was received by Judge Joseph P. Proskauer and George W. Van Namee, generalissimo of the Smith forces.

Nothing definite resulted from the conference. A further effort will be made to bring the forces together, it was said by the farm leaders.

With considerable opposition developing among eastern Democratic leaders to a blanket endorsement of the principles contained in the far-famed McNary-Haugen bill, a fight on the equalization fee appeared inevitable.

Despite the protestations of Democratic leaders that the farm issue would be met squarely and that the party favored relief, there was perceptibly less optimism among the two score farm organization heads than when they descended upon Houston expecting to be received with open arms.

Although the farm relief backers do not insist upon the McNary-Haugen bill being named, their insistence that full provision must be made for government action to control the farm surplus and assess the cost against the commodity—which is the equalization fee.

Many Democratic congressmen who fought the bill, including Rep. Charles Crisp of Georgia, are among the delegations in the convention. Crisp declared that he would not accept the principles of the bill as a part of the party's campaign pledges.

Farm organization heads have approved the plank proposed by Senator Caraway of Arkansas endorsing the vital principles of the McNary-Haugen bill without naming it—and the Illinois delegation evolved a similar proposal to be presented by Michael Igoe, member of the resolutions committee.

JIMMY

ning. Those three big assets are what have put him where he is—away out in front. No speeches in Houston can change that.

Wonders About Dawes

"Whom do I think should be nominated for the vice presidency? Frankly, I'll have to leave that to someone else. I do believe he ought to be a man with presidential measurements. He shouldn't be merely a man with strength enough to pick up a gavel and say 'let's call the roll.' I don't know General Dawes very intimately and I am not here to look after his interests, but to save me, I can't imagine why he wasn't named the presidential candidate at Kansas City.

"Now, about the farmer, fellows. The farmers' welfare is the country's welfare. When you feel the farmer you're fooling the city fellow. Candidly, I don't know an awful lot about farming or farm produce after milk has been covered. The big job in New York is to get milk to the tens of thousands of kids there who live off nothing but milk. I can tell you lots about milk, but little else about farming.

"I guess there are others like me here. So I think we need for vice president or for some office high in the federal government a man who understands the farmer and his problems and can give him what he needs."

HARMONY

The dry fight will be led by Dan Moody, the young red-haired governor of Texas, who feels morally obligated to wage a fight because of the instructions given the Texas delegation by the state convention. He will be supported by a number of southern leaders, among them Josephus Daniels, who, as secretary of the navy during the Wilson administration, dried up the navy. Daniels takes the position that any evasion on the prohibition question would injure the party in years to come.

Daniels' Threat Superfluous
Inasmuch as the Smith leaders, such as Frank Hague, of New Jersey, Franklin D. Roosevelt of New York and George Brennan of Illinois, have abandoned any idea of fighting for a wet plank—if they ever really entertained the notion—Daniels' threat to "stay here all summer and fight it" seemed superfluous.

Only on one other plank in the platform did there appear to be much debate. That is on farm relief. Most of the southerners in congress voted for the McNary-Haugen bill and hence it is likely that this convention will take a considerably stronger stand for the farmer than did the Republicans at Kansas City.

Whether there will be a first ballot nomination of Governor Smith depends upon the action of several favorite sons—principally Pomerene in Ohio, Woodlen in Indiana and Ayres in Kansas.

The Ohio caucus resulted in a decision to support Pomerene on the first ballot but on the second the 48 delegates will go 42 for Smith and 6 for Reed. Before the balloting time begins, however, it is possible the plan to vote for Pomerene will be abandoned.

Eighteen of Woodlen's votes in the Indiana delegation will be tallied for Smith on the second ballot, if not on the first, according to the delegation leaders.

Silent On Merger
Cleveland, June 26.—No further comment was forthcoming today from Edward S. Jordan, president of the Jordan Motor company here to Jordan's confirmation yesterday that officers of the Pierce Arrow Motor Car company have made a merger offer to the Jordan company whereby Jordan is to be practically in control of the consolidation.

Misses Ruth and Elizabeth Beach, of Warren, were Salem visitors Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Templin and Miss Ruth Crockett of Cleveland, returned home today after spending the week end with Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Schaefer, East Fifth st.

Miss Florence Schuerenbergh, McKinley ave., teacher of piano, has gone to Cleveland to take a normal course.

The band went into "America." Shaver called Charley Greathouse, of Indiana, forward and he read the call of the convention. He didn't get as good attention as did Miss Passmore.

Mayor Oscar P. Holcombe, of Houston, then officially welcomed the convention to Houston.

Recess Until 7:30
Clement C. Dickinson of Clinton, Mo., a delegate, finally moved a recess until 7 o'clock.

Shaver repeated the motion to the convention, making the hour 7:30 instead of 7, murmured a call for the eyes and noses, and announced the eyes had it while a chorus of noses came from the floor and many of the delegates didn't know what it was all about.

As it was the first session ended 20 minutes after it began without effecting temporary organizations, without the appointment of committees or anything except the cold legal formality of reading the call, and a vision of the blonde beauty of Miss Passmore.

THOMPSON OUT OF SENATE RACE

Withdraws In Interests Of Party Harmony, He Says In Statement

Cleveland, June 26.—With a plea for united ranks among Ohio Republicans, Col. Carmi A. Thompson has announced his withdrawal as a candidate for the United States senate to fill the unexpired term of the late Frank B. Willis.

Thompson's formal withdrawal statement follows:

"In a talk I made before the Republican women of Ohio in Cleveland on June 2, I said 'whatever our preferences may be, whatever our personal ambitions we may have, let us keep in mind that the greatest good for the greatest number, depends on an overwhelming Republican victory in November.'

"The Republicans of Ohio have just emerged from a spirited primary contest which apparently has left traces of bitterness in many places. A continuation of the strife on the foundation laid in the April primaries can serve no useful purpose and may endanger party success in the fall election. For this reason, I have concluded to put aside my personal ambitions for something which I prize more highly—party harmony and party unity, and am therefore withdrawing from the race for senator to fill the unexpired term of the late Senator Frank B. Willis.

"A united Republican party in this state in the November election means a successful Republican ticket for national, state and county offices and a continuation of the principles of the Republican party under which we have become the most prosperous people in the world."

probably from the effete east, clung to their coats, but the scene from the platform presented an acre of shirt-sleeved men and fanning women whose clothes stuck damply to their backs. Withal, it wasn't any hotter than it was at Madison Square Garden four years ago. The ventilation was on all sides and that helped.

Familiar figures of the Wilson administration, Ex-Secretary of the Navy Josephus Daniels, Joseph T. Tumulty, Admiral Cary T. Grayson, Jonett Shouse of Kansas, Ray T. Baker and others were busy on the floor, renewing old acquaintances and exchanging greetings.

Wait For Texans
At 12:12 there was a burst of applause when Texas' 40 delegates marched into the hall with the young red-headed governor, Dan Moody, carrying the flag of the Lone Star state. Upon the platform some Texas let out a shrill "yip-yip."

As if waiting for the Texas hosts, Clem Shaver called the convention to order at 12:15, or rather he began pounding his gavel at that hour. The aisles were checked with people, and the hall was so vast that the rap of the gavel sounded like a toothpick beating on a redwood log.

Prayer Is Short
The convention rose and became quiet for the clergyman. His prayer was a short one and concluded with the Lord's prayer.

Then a blonde vision in orchid came forward and rendered "The Star Spangled Banner"—Miss Melvina Passmore, a home town girl, who formerly was with the Chicago Grand Opera company. Plenty of applause for her. She was the coolest looking in the whole vast hall.

RAILS ADVANCE

New York, June 26.—A sharp advance in many prominent rail stocks featured an inactive stock market today. Delaware and Hudson spurted 12 points to 197 and gains of one to two points were made by other dividend-paying eastern rails.

The market was handicapped by a tightening in money, banks withdrawing a considerable amount of loans in preparation for July first requirements and the call loans rate rising to 7 per cent in the third hour. The trading was slow, but slightly more active than on the previous day.

The Motors and Coppers followed the rails to higher price levels. Chrysler corporation held steady, while Dodge Brothers sold off slightly on news of the injunction to restrain two companies from merging.

A 3 point rise in Anaconda Copper was accompanied by the dividend action which placed the stock on a $4 annual dividend basis.

'QUEEN' BATTLES FOR CULT POWER

Legal Fight Seen As Mary Purnell Would Oust King Ben's Successor

Benton Harbor, Mich., June 26.—A legal battle for control of the House of David was presaged today between "Queen" Mary Purnell, wife of the deceased "seventh messenger," and H. T. Dewhirst, who has been head of the colony's advisory board since "King" Ben Purnell died.

While Dewhirst is virtually the colony leader, Mary retains her palatial quarters and W. J. Barnard, attorney for the cult, and her friend, declares a majority of the members are loyal to her.

Barnard, in a long statement, said Dewhirst is "a trouble maker" and asserts that if Dewhirst were eliminated from the situation the colony would have peace and happiness.

Barnard's statement also says the advisory board is functioning contrary to law and indicates a legal battle will be started to give colony members an opportunity to hold a general assembly and express their wishes.

KANSAS VOTES TO BACK AYRES

Houston, Texas, June 26.—The Kansas delegation in the Democratic national convention caucused today just before the convention opened and decided to cast 20 votes for Kansas' favorite son, Rep. William A. Ayres, on the first ballot "and as long thereafter as a majority of the delegates desire."

Ayres is the only Democratic congressman from Kansas.

Blood of Indian Chiefs Flows in Curtis' Veins

G. O. P. Vice-Presidential Nominee Is a Real 100% American

By GRAHAM STEWART
International Illustrated News Staff Correspondent

For the first time in American history an Indian looms as likely to become Vice-President of the United States! This statement isn't as fantastic as it sounds, for—

Senator Charles Curtis, of Kansas, chosen by the Republicans of the country to be the running mate of Herbert Hoover, is a descendant of noble Indian chieftains, himself born on Indian territory in what is now North Dakota. The holder of a powerful position in the Senate, where he was for some time G. O. P. leader, and a statesman second to none, which fact he proved when he coaxed the insurgents of the upper house into party alignment, the vice-presidential nominee's grand-mother was a member of the Kansas Tribe and was one-half Indian.

His maternal great-grandfather was "White Plume," chief of the

SENATOR CHARLES CURTIS

Kansas Tribe, who was the son of "Pawhuska," the great chieftain of the Osageos.

Thus Senator Curtis, cowboy, rancher, statesman, is just a "100 per cent American," one of the few who have attained high office in the United States.

SEES SMITH WINNER ON OPENING BALLOT

VanNamee predicts sweep Of Votes To At. When Roll Is Called

Houston, Texas, June 26 Gov. Al Smith will be nominated for the presidency on the first ballot, his managers predicted two hours before the Democratic national convention was to get under way today.

This marked the first time that the Smith leaders have given any official indication that they expected the New York executive to go over on the first roll call. Previously they had taken the position that every favorite son should have a chance to show his strength and they were satisfied to predict the governor's nomination on "an early ballot."

George R. Van Namee, pre-convention manager for Gov. Smith, does not believe that anything can prevent the nomination of the New York executive on the first ballot. "The logic of events at Houston and the general good feeling that prevails indicates that Smith's popularity is so great that it is doubtful even if his managers wished it, that his nomination could be delayed beyond the first ballot."

Sees Dry Backing Smith
A broad smile spread over Van Namee's face as he said: "There is no doubt about that."

At the same time Van Namee insisted that the much discussed prohibition fight would be settled in committee and would not be carried to the floor of the convention.

"There won't be any fight on the floor of the convention over prohibition," Van Namee emphatically declared. "There is too much good feeling here. There never has been such harmony at any Democratic national convention. Every delegate knows the Democratic party will have a ground chance to win next November, and no one will want to do anything that might jeopardize that chance."

"Do you make that assertion after talking with some of the dries?" Van Namee was asked.

"I certainly do," he replied. "I have talked with a number of dries and I know they will all work for the election of Gov. Smith."

Running Mate Race Open
A moment later the Smith manager added:

"I can't make this too strong:

PEOPLES LUMBER PRESIDENT DEAD

Alliance, June 26.—John C. Devine, 72, Alliance contractor for approximately half a century, died at his home, 355 East Columbia st., Monday after an illness of nearly a year.

Born in County Galway, Ireland, Sept. 24, 1855, Mr. Devine came to the United States at the age of 16. He moved to Alliance in 1879 and has since resided in this city.

Becoming a general contractor, Mr. Devine erected a number of the older business blocks on Main street. He was president of the J. C. Devine company, a contracting concern with headquarters in Meadville, Pa.

President of the J. C. Devine Properties company of Florida, president of the Peoples Lumber company of Salem, and was vice president and director of the City Savings Bank and Trust company of Alliance.

From 1892 to 1895, Mr. Devine was postmaster in Alliance.

Mr. Devine spent the winters in Florida for a number of years and was a big factor in developing Miami Beach, one of the most prominent resorts in the southern state.

He married Miss Mary Madden in 1883 who survives him besides two children, C. L. Devine and Mrs. A. A. Kotte of Alliance; five grandchildren and two sisters residing in Ireland. He was a member of St. Joseph's Catholic church and the Knights of Columbus.

Funeral service will be held in St. Joseph's Catholic church Thursday morning at 8:30. Interment will be made in St. Joseph's cemetery.

Friends may call at the Devine home Wednesday night from 7 to 9 o'clock.

ADAMS POINTS TO CORRUPTION

Progressive Says Party Nominee Will Enforce Prohibition Laws

BY ALVA ADAMS
Former Senator from Colorado and Noted Western Progressive.

Houston, Texas, June 26.—The Democratic party can elect the next president of the United States and a Democratic congress this year if it makes the good fight against a Republican corruption, for honesty in government and for the long-needed and Republican-denied relief for agriculture.

The Democrats of the west do not regard prohibition as a party question. In Colorado, prohibition is a fact. The only problem is enforcing it. We are disposed to concede to every man his individual view as to the future of what candidate Hoover described as a "great experiment."

We believe that the oath of the Democratic nominee to enforce all laws, including the prohibition law, would be observed regardless of his personal views as to the wisdom of the delegation. Consequently, we are not concerned as to the individual views of the candidate. He will be bound by the platform of his party and the oath of office.

I am quite sure that the record, which the Democratic president will make in the matter of prohibition enforcement, will compare favorably with the record of the present administration, which has not been at heart in sympathy with prohibition and has placed at the head of its prohibition enforcement department, one of the greatest distillers of whisky in America. I am positive that distiller will be removed when the Democrats come into power next March 4 and a man, in sympathy with prohibition, placed in charge of its enforcement.

The great issues in this campaign, as I see them, are the purification of American public life, and relief of the long standing and disastrous Republican discrimination against farmers. Political corruption during the last administration has permeated the government and reached to the very top of the government. It is no longer possible for the Republican party to excuse itself on the ground that corruption had been but the offense of a few individuals. The party itself has not only participated but profited by it. The people are in revolt and election day will disclose their determination to clean house and purify the atmosphere in Washington.

COURT NEWS

Wife Wants Divorce

A divorce petition has been filed in common pleas court against Walter Flowers, a barber, residing at Wellsville, by his wife, Luella Flowers. They were married Aug. 15, 1922.

In addition to the charge of gross neglect of duty, Mrs. Flowers also charges her husband with extreme cruelty, declaring that he has wrongfully accused her of misconduct, that he tore a dress from her body and destroyed it, and that he has knocked her down stairs and has threatened to kill her.

Arraignment Friday

Unless there is an unexpected change in the proposed schedule, those who are indicted by the special grand jury now in session will be arraigned before Common Pleas Judge W. F. Lones Friday morning. The grand jury is expected to complete its work late Tuesday afternoon when it presents its report to the court. Practically every case investigated has to do with accused persons who are now confined in the county jail without bond.

SLEMP CLAIMS PUBLIC MIND IS CHIEF FACTOR

Sees Last of Senator Jim As People Want Smith For Dem. Nominee

By C. BASCOM SLEMP
Former Secretary to President Coolidge

New York, June 26. — President Roosevelt once told me that it takes four years of consideration by the American people to make a nominee for the presidency.

This rule of law has been demonstrated this year at both Kansas City and Houston. Hoover has been before the public as a presidential possibility for eight years and likewise Gov. Smith.

The mistake the allies made in Kansas City and the mistake the allies are making in Houston is that they think they can undo the settling of the public mind which has been operating for all these years, in a few short hours at convention time.

Warnings Are No Avail
Meetings at midnight, ominous warnings given to the press never suffice to stop the current when it is backed up by public sentiment accumulating for years. So it looks like Smith.

Practically all the candidates have withdrawn except the old warrior, Senator Reed who is taking his all on this last turn of the wheel, and he indeed is a pathetic figure. The remarkable success attending him on his last election to the senate seemed to have completely turned his head. He thought that he could go on the stump and stampede the American people into turning to him as a righteous saint—to purify the political world.

It was of no avail that he lost every state he entered except his own and now he is desperately appealing to the dry—whom he has been haunting all his life, but they do not know his voice.

End of Senator Jim
This is the end of Senator Jim. The Democrats have made up their minds to nominate Smith and take all chances. They are doing this for one reason and for one reason only, and that is that they think he may carry New York.

All the great leaders of Democracy have apparently passed into the great beyond and there is not one to stand for any policy other than the principle of pure unadorned expediency.

Smith may carry New York. Having made up their minds to sacrifice all for Smith, they are trying to make a set-up that will not be too inconsistent with his picture. This makes for the most meaningless declarations and the most hypocritical by-plays ever presented to the American public.

Doubts Wilson Backing
The press carries the statement that Mrs. Woodrow Wilson is a tower of strength to Smith. This, if true, is almost a perversion of the sainted dead. Tammany fought Woodrow Wilson all his life and that political expediency would bring his hallowed memory to the support of this discredited organization is unbelievable.

Woodrow Wilson, if living, would have been found on the side of those who are fighting for principle and not for expediency. He was always elected without New York.

SAYS PROFESSOR NOT FORCED OUT

State Investigator Files Report on Ohio U. Case With Governor

Columbus, June 26.—Asserting his opinion that no undue influence had been exerted upon officials of Ohio university, Athens, and declaring that Wesley H. Maurer, assistant professor of journalism, at Ohio university, had not been treated unfairly, L. I. Louthian, Columbus, it was announced today, submitted to Gov. Vic Donahey his report covering an investigation of complaints that coal operators improperly influenced officials of the university and that Maurer had been dismissed by the university because of alleged friendship for striking coal miners.

The governor announced that he would turn the report over to the board of trustees of Ohio university for consideration. Donahey pointed out that he has no authority or jurisdiction over the board.

Some weeks ago, Donahey selected Louthian to make the investigation after a committee of union coal miners from Athens county, headed by Ed. Michael, of The Plains, visited the governor and lodged a vigorous protest against what they termed an unwarranted dismissal of Maurer from the university.

HOOVER LISTENS TO CONVENTION

Tunes radio on Democrats Meet at Houston: Goes West About July 10

Washington, June 26. — Herbert Hoover tuned on his radio receiver today and prepared to get as much political education as possible out of the Democratic national convention at Houston.

The Hoover camp will keep quiet while the Democrats are selecting their leaders. The G. O. P. will make no bid for the front pages for several weeks to come.

Hoover now plans to go west about July 10 and the only contemplated action prior to that time is the selection of east and west managers, probably to go to Senator Moses of New Hampshire, and James W. Good, of Iowa.

Good, who was a candidate for national chairman, so far has not given any indication whether he will assume charge of the Chicago Hoover headquarters. His friends, however, said that he would be ready when the time comes.

If the Republican campaign goes according to present plans it will be a short and snappy drive. Real action is expected to start about the middle of August or the first of September, after Hoover sounds the Republican call to arms in California with his address at the notification ceremonies.

Chairman Hubert Work said the campaign would be based on accomplishments of the administration, the internationally known ability of Hoover to organize and administer big projects and a promise of constructive national policies. "There will be no mud slinging," he said. "We don't underestimate Governor Smith's strength, but we don't think we can lose."

In China and Japan the first day of the year is the most striking and joyous of all the religious observances.

COME BACK GAG WORKED PLENTY IN PRIZE RING

Walsh Cites Many Boxers
Who Have Returned To Glory Once More

BY DAVIS J. WALSH
New York, June 25.—The jobby who weakened under the weight of his innate cleverness and committed the line, "They never come back," must have been talking about shirts from the laundry or something. He couldn't have been referring to the manly fellows of the prize ring; at least, not if he has been keeping the good, old index finger on the pulse of the situation. The famous bromide of pop-off to be elegant, isn't worth the chloroform to kill it nowadays.

All you have to think of, in order to knock it right down, is old Mike McTigue. I admit it is far from painless to think about Miguel of late but the fact remains that, after being kicked around by everybody and his Uncle Abner, this patriarch came back to knock out Berlenbach and others and was within a stride of beating Jack Sharkey before Dempsey got him.

All Washed Up
And Dempsey! He was all washed up, they said, and didn't have a chance against a Confederate veteran with an empty sleeve. Yet he outstayed and outsmarted Sharkey and needed only another punch against Tunney to regain his heavyweight championship. Maybe this wasn't coming back in the fullest sense of the term but Messrs. Tunney and Sharkey will bear up bravely if he never does any better by the situation.

Next we will turn our attention to Mr. Barney Williams, nee Battling Levinsky. The Battler has been battling around longer than Murphy's upper lip and a few years ago he was thought to have retired, mostly by request. But I note in the public prints that Battling Levinsky is fighting again and often and that he still can beat a lot of young men who think they are light heavyweights. Mr. William Breslin, otherwise Jack Britton, is another old timer who was permitted to languish on the vine and then stepped himself out of retirement to interrupt the progress of a few forward-looking welterweights.

Welterweights? That brings us right up to date. You may have observed that Pete Latzo almost beat Tommy Loughran out of his light heavyweight title some weeks ago and subsequently won on a foul from Leo Lemski after a terrific fight. Latzo was welterweight champion only a year ago.

Many Soon Forget
The scale beat him, however, and when he went into the middleweight class he seemed to lose his stuff. Anyhow, he got nowhere with great speed and the boys began to forget him without trouble. He finally outgrew this class, too, and forthwith mangled with the light heavyweights, looking none too good, at that. Loughran thought he was going in with a push-over or Peter probably wouldn't have got the fight at all. At least, he wouldn't have got it until Loughran was sure he was ready. Now, after his performance with Lemski, he is among the front line of title contenders.

The next exhibit is little Cannonball Martin, who blew his bantamweight title years ago, and seldom was heard of or from until recently. But he is good enough right now to get successive championship fights with Tod Morgan in the 130-pound class.

Finally, we have Mickey Walker. Shorn of his title by Latzo and stopped by Joe Dundee, he lived to become champion in the class above and still is. He even went so far as to knock out McTigue, causing some of his friends to believe that he can beat the average first class heavyweight.

Yes, they never come back—provided you hit them with a pick axe.

Retains Tennis Title

Miss Mary Dixon Thayer, of Philadelphia Cricket Club, who retained her Pennsylvania and Eastern States singles championship when she defeated Miss Anne B. Townsend, of Merion, 7-5, 7-5, in the final round of the title play at the Merion Cricket Club, Haveringford, Pa.

Allen Has Sore Side; Halt Vault Practice

Lowell Emerson Allen, Salem's only sure entry into the final tryouts for the Olympic team at Harvard July 6 and 7, is being treated for a severely strained side which physicians fear may develop into something more serious.

The national intercollegiate pole vault champion first noticed his condition on his return from Chicago, where he established a new record.

Training for the final Olympic tryouts last week he was forced to make six attempts before he was able to lift himself from the ground. He was not able to try for any height.

Allen today said that he believes the condition due to his fall when he made his record vault at Chicago. He was so concerned with having cleared the bar at 13 feet 3 3/16 inches, that he failed to gather himself together for the downward fall and fell much harder than usual.

He said nothing of it to Coach Wilbur Springer, fearing that he and the public would take it as an alibi at his failure to clear 13 feet six inches, and practiced as usual, but with much more trouble. Last Friday and Saturday he was unable to practice at all.

Physicians examining him today stated that they hoped to improve his condition in order that he will be in the best of condition for July 6 and 7 when he competes with Sabin Carr, Yale, and Lee Barnes, California, both vaulters who have cleared 14 feet, and Edmunds, Stanford star.

Allen, himself, today was enthusiastic, saying, "If I get the chance to vault I'm sure I'd forget all about my sore side."

They pay to see him.

Therefore, a reasonably generous outpouring of the populace may be looked for at Ebbets field tomorrow night when Godfrey will be tossed in with Johnny Risko for ten rounds and the writer sees, in the prospect, only good coming from apparent evil. He wants as many as possible to know Godfrey for what he is and he thinks Risko is just the demon-strator needed.

A great towering black, with the torso of a Hindoo god, Godfrey has a physical heritage that few men know. Given the fighting instinct of Dempsey, the body of Godfrey probably would reign supreme through the ages. Instead, he is just a human negative. You don't hurt him much. He hurts you even less.

In spite of his great strength, he hasn't mastered the trick of bashing another on the nostril with dire consequence nor does he seem to have any great stomach for the life he has professed.

I understand they like him in Los Angeles. If that is so, then there is no accounting for taste or Godfrey has been holding out on us here. To the best of my knowledge, he hasn't made a good fight in the east and, in all truth, he has had full many a chance.

They say Godfrey hurt his Los Angeles reputation just a bit in his fight with Paulino. In consequence, there seems to be an excellent chance that he will be discontinued and abated tomorrow night, for Risko has more on the ball than Paulino showed in these parts.

Nearly Cinch Title For
First Half of City
League by Win

The Mascons all but cinched the championship of the first half in the City playground baseball league, defeating the Salem China in a closely contested game at Centennial park last night, 4-1.

It was the Mascons' fourth straight victory. Tonight they play the Post Office nine in the playoff of a postponed game, and should they lose, will not lose their hold on first place, but will tie for the title with Mullins.

The game last night was the closest of the season, both teams scoring in only one inning. The Pottory made its only run in the first, after which it was held scoreless, while the Mascons had one big inning, the third.

Arnold Lutes pitched for the winners and was given airtight support after the first frame. Springer caught his slants. Harry Vincent and Krepps formed the Pottory battery.

Tonight's game closes the play for the first half. The second half schedule is being arranged by Manager Joe M. Kelley and will be announced soon.

Bar Matt Bramson From Promoting In Cleveland Shows

Cleveland, June 25.—Matt Bramson has been barred from promoting boxing shows in Cuyahoga county and Charlie Lupica, Toledo fighter, has been suspended for the outdoor season as a result of Friday night's fiasco at the Euclid Park arena.

Lake Shore Boulevard and Rush rd. County Boxing Commissioner Mike McGinty acted against both men, declaring Bramson unqualified to operate and classing Lupica as an undesirable because of his refusal to box when the size of the crowd did not meet expectations.

"Bramson proved himself incompetent to promote shows," McGinty said, "and it is only fair to the fight-going public to leave operations of the various arenas to men capable of running off a program as advertised. Friday's affair was badly bungled and we can tolerate no more such poor handling."

Bramson promoted a fiasco in Salem last fall.

Bellaire—Because of the heat, A. R. Ramage, of Kelsey, left his automobile and most of his clothing on the bank of the Ohio river recently to go motor boating with a friend. Then the report was circulated he had committed suicide. When Ramage returned to the shore he found a crowd on the bank and men in skiffs dragging the river.

From very ancient times the first day of the year has been observed as a holy festival.

RISKO SHOULD WHIP GODFREY

Walsh Says John Shows
More Class Than Dark
Man From West

BY DAVIS J. WALSH

New York, June 25.—It is to be hoped that nothing further will interfere with the proceedings, scheduled now for tomorrow evening, whereby it is possible we will be well rid of an insufferable bore.

Usually, this type is avoided pointedly and with all haste, both socially and professionally, but George Godfrey, the negro heavyweight, enjoys an immunity that is denied all others of his pestiferous breed. They don't avoid George.

They pay to see him.

Therefore, a reasonably generous outpouring of the populace may be looked for at Ebbets field tomorrow night when Godfrey will be tossed in with Johnny Risko for ten rounds and the writer sees, in the prospect, only good coming from apparent evil.

He wants as many as possible to know Godfrey for what he is and he thinks Risko is just the demonstrator needed.

A great towering black, with the torso of a Hindoo god, Godfrey has a physical heritage that few men know. Given the fighting instinct of Dempsey, the body of Godfrey probably would reign supreme through the ages. Instead, he is just a human negative. You don't hurt him much. He hurts you even less.

In spite of his great strength, he hasn't mastered the trick of bashing another on the nostril with dire consequence nor does he seem to have any great stomach for the life he has professed.

I understand they like him in Los Angeles. If that is so, then there is no accounting for taste or Godfrey has been holding out on us here. To the best of my knowledge, he hasn't made a good fight in the east and, in all truth, he has had full many a chance.

They say Godfrey hurt his Los Angeles reputation just a bit in his fight with Paulino. In consequence, there seems to be an excellent chance that he will be discontinued and abated tomorrow night, for Risko has more on the ball than Paulino showed in these parts.

MOVIES

"AMERICAN BEAUTY" is all that the name implies. Which means that the picture of that name at the State has beautiful Billie Dove, who deserves the title, in the starring role, a capable cast of supporting players and an excellent story in which comedy and touches of drama and pathos are intermingled with skill.

Adapted from a short story of the same name by Wallace Irwin, "American Beauty" is the whimsical story of a beautiful girl who has no money but conceals the fact behind a screen of pretense in order to catch a millionaire for a husband. When she finally has the millionaire in her net, of course, she discovers he isn't such a catch after all.

Lloyd Hughes lends his pleasant personality and masculine handsomeness to the leading role opposite Miss Dove. Walter McGrail, as the millionaire, gives a finished performance and Lucien Prival, a comparative newcomer to the screen, stands out in a comedy role of unusual nature. Margaret Livingston, Al St. John, Edythe Chapman, Alice White, Yola d'Avril, Loretta Young and others are in support.

"American Beauty" is a Richard Wallace production, and maintains the usual high standard set by that director in recent pictures. The story was adapted to the screen and produced for First National Pictures by Carey Wilson.

"THE CHASER"

Harry Langdon exhibits his latest burst of merriment, "The Chaser" at the Grand.

"The Chaser" needs no other classification than that it is funny. It is a melange of domestic infelicity with Harry cast in a role that fits him like the paper on the wall, albeit he has not appeared heretofore, if memory serves, as a married man. In this picture he is a sort of guinea pig of conubial science on which experiments are conducted.

The fluttering Langdon pantomime and the Langdon appeal, both entertainment qualities to conjure with, are inevitably present when

Harry appears on the screen. To these has been added in this instance a drum-fire story, which splutters gags and humorous situations like a machine gun. The one episode alone where Harry, a "kiss-lust husband" suddenly becomes imbued with an oscillatory spirit and starts smacking down girls and chaperones at the young ladies' picnic party is one of the most uproarious ever filmed. "Smacking down" is right—for the potency of Harry's "aged-in-the-wood" kisses is plenty, to judge by results.

An excellent cast supports the star. Gladys McConnell is good to look at in the leading feminine role, while Helen Hayward takes the part of the mother-in-law skillfully. Bud Jamison, old Mack Sennett favorite, makes a splendid foil for the drolleries of Langdon himself!

Today's Fashion By Vera Winston

Cape Ensemble of Heavy Ivory Crepe.

PICTURED above is a stunning Summer ensemble of heavy ivory crepe. Its most interesting features are a v-neck cape and a rather unusual arrangement of piping. The piping is imposed low on the skirt by a band of self piping. Separating the piping in the front center, one large box pleat grows from a triangular arrangement of the piping.

A tiny jabot and pearl buckle trim the rounded neckline. The cape is lined with a tustrous blue creating a beautiful background for the ivory dress.

HOME-MAKING HELPS

By Wanda Barton

Necessities For the Dressing Room

Necessities for the modern dressing room are appearing in most fascinating guise. There is a rage for home-made dressing tables of individual style that include those made from a kitchen table foundation, draped with muslin or chintz, to those specially built and draped with tapestries, painted silks and embroidered velvets.

One of the daintiest is made of a slender legged table with gold legs covered with a fitted top of gold cloth over pale blue satin and a deep gold lace flounce around the edge caught at the corners with tiny flat wreaths of pink, blue and gold roses. The glass above is framed with a gold frame and is hung with gold cords and tassels. A long handled French mirror, a long handled powder puff rest on the table, the latter on a glass tray with the powder at one end in a box to match.

At the side of the table, fastened to the wall, there is an armed cosmetic table holding all the jars, boxes, lotions and so on revealed by opening two little front doors. When not in use this table swings back against the wall. On top of the shell-like table are the various brushes and combs.

The upholstered dressing table stool is really a shoe box, that is for the dainty nudes, slippers, and house sandals used with negligees. On the closet door are the double shoe racks that keep the shoes in perfect condition. The new closet hanging red draws forward so that the dress needed may be discovered without pulling out several before getting the right one. The closely covered velvet hangers are favored as the most practical since the clothes cling to them instead of sliding off and landing in a heap on the closet floor. The hangers may be purchased in sets of six or twelve in different popular colors.

The new hat stands are not only very useful but amusing as well. One is a big white bunny sitting up holding a cabbage leaf in his front paws while he nibbles it presumably. His upstanding ears making the hat rest. Then there is a big black cat with arched back and tail with a pointed witch's cap on her back whereon a hat may be well placed. A row of such on the closet shelf makes an interesting study while selecting the hat for the outfit planned.

Dress bags for the closet have become one of the necessities. The frocks may be slipped into them and the zipper fastening closes them from all dust and keeps the chignon and delicate crepes so much worn, crisp and fresh. There are rubberized gingham bags that are nice in a damp climate, and there are heavy chintz bags, but they are all washable and of the same convenient make.

New handkerchief bags for the soiled ones are very attractive made of two large sized men's handkerchiefs. The borders are selected to match the decorations of the room and wash ribbons are used for the draw strings. The openings to slip the handkerchiefs through are bound with a bit of linen or organdy to match the border. Dainty handkerchiefs are also used to make the lingerie pillow slips; for summer use, they are fine and nice and not troublesome to launder. Nightgown cases are made to match.

STYLE EDICTS

Paris, June 26.—The afternoon gown is undoubtedly the most important item in every woman's wardrobe for it is the one in which her women friends see her most, and this is what counts. It is the one she wears to the Woman's club luncheon, the bridge party and afternoon tea. Even the most economical of her sex will see to it that her afternoon frocks are above criticism. They come this season in crepe satin, lace, georgette, crepe de Chine and crepe marocain. Doenillet is making a number in crepe satin beautifully cut in long, straight lines with tuckings and drapery cleverly arranged to conceal defects and bring out the best points of the figure. In all black it is a favorite with the smart Parisienne, trimmed simply with a rhinestone buckle at the side drapery.

A lovely afternoon frock comes in pearl-gray crepe satin with narrow bands of the dull side of the material on the neck and down the sides of the slightly bloused bodice.

20,000 PERSONS KILLED YEARLY IN INDUSTRIES

Many Accidents Called Preventable by Bureau in Hartford

Hartford, Conn., June 25—According to a recent survey by The United States Employees' Compensation commission, more than 20,000 persons are killed in industrial accidents each year.

The mishaps that result in that great toll of human life from our "industrial wars" and the lesser injuries that also occur cost the people of the United States approximately ten billion dollars annually.

Just as preventative measures are being advocated constantly to outlaw war and thus save a tremendous loss in life, so can preventative measures be taken to reduce industrial accidents, the survey pointed out. A research by The Travelers Insurance company into more than 70,000 industrial accident cases disclosed that 98 per cent of the total were preventable.

Prevention Principles
"The recognition and application of sound accident prevention principles would make possible within a few years a 50 per cent reduction in the industrial-accident frequency in this country and an estimated saving of five billion dollars annually," the research report said.

Eighty-eight per cent of the causes of industrial accidents are said to be supervisory and 10 per cent physical, both within the power of the employer and employees to correct. This analysis shows that unavoidable accidents constitute only 2 per cent of the industry's wasteful toll.

In addition to the 20,000 killed yearly, there are 1,627 permanently disabled, 100,000 with permanent partial disability and 2,500,000 temporarily disabled, the research revealed.

The total days lost have been estimated as 246,846,000, which means that the whole country has to share the enormous losses in life, limb, time and money because of industrial accidents.

That industrial accidents can and will be controlled to a large degree by employers is proved by the experience of many concerns. Only a few months ago the shops of the Chicago & Great Western railroad at Oelwein, Ia., established a record of 468 days without an accident occurring to 1,130 men employed in the repair department of the shops. One of the works of the Jones & Laughlin Steel corporation only recently completed 60 days operation without a single disabling accident to any of its employees.

Loss in Wages
In one widely-known manufacturing plant in this country where an analysis was made into the accidents, it was discovered that in one year there were 14,191 mishaps, involving 47,004 lost hours of the employees injured, and that the total loss by the company in unearned paid wages was $61,839.

Blindness resulting from industrial accidents is costing the country ten million dollars a year and is responsible for 15 per cent of the blind population, according to the National Research Society for the Prevention of Blindness. This is despite the fact that experience of many plants proves that most industrial eye accidents are preventable.

The seven basic causes of accidents under the heading of "supervision" have been listed as faulty instruction, inability of employee, poor discipline, lack of concentration, unsafe practices on the part of employee, mentally unfit and physically unfit employees.

New York—Father Knickerbocker is finding it is expensive to move trans-Atlantic flyers and more are yet to come. It has cost $185,000 to greet such heroes in the last year. Grover Whalen, official greeter, has written the mayor suggesting that ceremonies be restrained in the case of private enterprises having no bearing on international relations, this suggestion to take effect after Amelia Earhart arrives.

You pronounce his name exactly like it is spelled.

Daily Fashion Hint

GRACEFUL AFTERNOON FROCKS

For informal afternoon wear, the two frocks pictured are ideal, as they combine feminine elegance with almost total simplicity. They could appropriately be worn with just a fur piece on warm days. The dress at the left owes its very feminine charm to its vestee of lace and the drapey at the side of the skirt. For general wear, printed radium or crepe de Chine will be attractive, but for more informal wear, figured chiffon is the ideal choice.

The more sporty dress at the right draws inspiration from the popularity of the kerchief for Spring and Summer fashions. Not only its collar, but the pointed tiers of its skirt resemble the kerchief. This frock may be made of any of the silk crepes, and is especially attractive in plain crepe de Chine with a printed collar.

Soviets Use Planes To Dren Poison Gas On Mosquito Beds

Moscow, June 25—A squadron of 25 bombing planes loaded with tons of arsenic gases and crude oil, will fight armies of malarial mosquitoes in Soviet Russia this summer and have probably thousands of human lives.

Millions of acres of peat moors,

the favorite mosquito breeding haunts, will be sprayed with oil from the air. The swarms of the pests which are already hatched will be killed off by arsenic gas. The malaria death rate in some districts of Russia is appalling, but the disease is common all over the country.

Other squadrons sent out by the Commissariat of Agriculture will fight the boll weevil in the cotton fields of the south and the wood beetle in the northern pine forests. Most of the pilots are army officers, who for training purposes have been instructed to simulate actual air raids, even though the victims be only mosquitoes.

Cleveland—Cleveland's city bathing beaches may have women life guards this summer. Anthony Sukalm, supervisor of the force, said a dozen women have applied for life saving jobs and several are capable swimmers. They will be given try-outs next week.

June 26th, 1928 Dear Friends:—

Before I went to work here at the American Dry Cleaning Co., I thought cleaning and pressing was something of a luxury. But I'm convinced now that I was wrong.

Mr. Kent remarked yesterday that a suit would give twice the service when cleaned and pressed once in a while, than if it never saw the cleaner. Come to think about it, he's probably right.

And, gosh, what a difference a good cleaning and pressing makes in the appearance of a suit. A gray suit came in yesterday that looked like it had been in the lake. And last night when they hung it on the "finished" rack, it looked like it had just come from the tailor's.

Yes, sir, it pays to have 'em cleaned. Phone 557.
